Excerpt from Dewey Square Comprehensive Transportation Systems Management Program: Draft Environmental Assessment, Transportation Analysis, July, 1984 Use of the area s surface street system as a bypass route for traffic attempting to avoid congestion on the Central Artery. Heavy bus and truck volumes that are forced to compete with both local and regional traffic on area streets. Very heavy pedestrian volumes and a general public disregard of designated crosswalks and signal phases. A prohibition against trucks carrying dangerous cargos throughout the Central Artery s Dewey Square Tunnel requires they be accommodated on several local streets. The problems listed above result in a very inefficient roadway system which is particularly apparent during the peak commuter periods. Future Improvements This study identified two improvement options to meet the soils of the Study. Alternative A provides for an improved roadway configuration which generally includes the following: Alternative A resignation of Atlantic Avenue and Lincoln Streets as one-way northbound while South street and (purchase street) would become one-way southbound. All southbound traffic would be eliminated on Atlantic Avenue and all
