Government Accountability Office, 2006 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)73175446 Subject: United States -- Officials and employees -- Salaries, etc. Excerpt: . . . Appendix I: Objectives, Scope, and Methodology weights applied to the GDP price deflators expenditure categories over time, which helps reflect how relative price changes affect purchasers spending patterns. Historically, inflation as measured by the CPI has tended to outpace inflation as measured by the GDP price deflator. Over the period of time covered by this report ( 1970 to 2006 ), the CPI has increased at an average annual rate of 4. 7 percent, whereas the GDP price deflator has increased at an average annual rate of 4. 0 percent. In addition, to account for economywide trends in wage and salary growth, we adjusted the basic pay rates from the selected pay plans to calendar year 2006 dollars using BEAs National Income and Product Accounts wage index for private industries. We used this wage index because it provided a continuous series of wage data for the entire time period covered by our analysis. Wage and salary data pertaining to a more narrowly defined sector of the nonfederal workforce ( e. g. , white-collar workers ) was not available for the entire time period. We performed our work from February through May 2006 in accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards.
